

Mea Culpa Mea Culpa

Quilt & Needlecraft

Mega Culpa, I was so excited to report on our successful, Bazaar, Quilt, luncheon and bake sale last month, I forgot to thank those that saw to it the show was successful.

Our Show, Bazaar, bake sale, raffle, and our sale table, & luncheon was a booming success. Everything & I mean everything came together. It was so nice to see such support and corporation from our whole club, Eggs guys, husbands et all. A very big thank you to Arden Sulzbach, Jeff Reinhart, Bob Frey, Jack Hichak, Larry Breeding, Trever Holm, George Latimer, Frank Weisent. I'm sorry, sorry, sorry, I know I forgot people but I'm having an extended senior moment into an hour, week, month. Please forgive me and I will correct when I'm corrected.

I'd have to admit it was Arden who came through again leading the way, saving the day. First, he got the Egg guys to help us out and secondly, Arden saw what was needed, went home for supplies and lead the way putting together the A frames for our quilts. It was Jeff and Kathy who single handedly put together the big quilt racks. These displays accented our quilts and showed them handsomely. Lifesavers surely, thank you.

Last month our guest speaker was none other than our own renown Pat Haddock. Pat taught us all about the ins and outs of joining binding. Pat shared personal secrets on how we could keep everything going in the same direction without any twists or turns. Pat's hints were invaluable. Pat was uncanny duplicating all, and I mean all the common mistakes we can make and usually do make and how to prevent them. A lesson in teaching as well. Thank you, Pat.,
